

Application for Student Emergency Aid of National Changhua University of Education

Approved at Administrative Meeting on Apr.14, 1999

Amended at Administrative Meeting on Apr.12, 2000

Amended at Administrative Meeting on May8, 2002

1. The guidelines of Application for Student Emergency Aid was regulated pursuant to MOE's instructions of Subsidies for College Students' Study(大學院校辦理學生就學補助原則)to encourage students with financial difficulty in their family to study hard and finish the study while nurturing self-confidence and independence.
2. Eligibility:
 - 1) The students who are not able to support living so that incapable of finish their study due to a lineal relative's severe illness or decease;
 - 2) Students' family is suffering from a devastated accident (such as fire, earthquake, or car accident) or an unforeseen happening (such as parents lose jobs or go bankrupt) so that both their living and study have been affected.
 - 3) Those who experience special emergencies (such as both parents are deceased therefore has to be raised by relatives or by someone cannot afford living expenses, student him/herself is severely ill or injured) are granted as a special case.
3. Applicants shall collect application form from Office of Student Affairs (OSA) and fill it out after incident occurs. Advisor or Military Training Instructor of the academic department will visit applicant's family (or contact by phone if the family is living overseas or in an off-shore island) and make comments based on real situations. The application will then be sent to OSA and a report will be proposed at Review Meeting.
4. Dean of OSA will convene associated faculty to review the applications based on the facts and to ratify the amount of grant. A maximum of NT$30,000 is budgeted as grant.
5. A repeat application is possible for individual case and shall be filed once in an academic year only.
6. This grant is funded by relevant budgets.
7. The Guidelines shall go into effect from the first semester of academic year 2002 after being approved by Administrative Meeting and ratified by President. The same procedure shall be applied to the amendments likewise.